About SPE
Student Membership
Student membership has many benefits and is free when you sign up for the SPE Student Dues Sponsorship Program.
PhD student members can access Technical Communities and Technical Sections by submitting proof of enrollment (i.e. – transcript, a letter from the registrar, etc.) and expected completion date of doctoral studies (MM/DD/YYYY). Submit your request for access to service@spe.org.

Student Chapters
Student chapters are linked to universities around the world and are supported by local sections. Active student members work closely with their sponsoring SPE Section, faculty advisors, and department heads to host industry-related events. Participation in your local student chapter provides an opportunity to network with peers and local industry professionals, leading to potential career-advancing connections and skills.
Visit the Student Chapters page for more information on how to find, operate, and establish your local SPE Chapter.
